

Photo: studio 29 lighting

Aaron moves a few doors down

Sometimes a little change is all that's needed. Antiquities specialist David Aaron is moving from 22 Berkeley Square – to 25a Berkeley Square.

It might not be far to go, but the new space offers 4000sq ft over three floors, two-and-a-half times the size of its former home. The Grade II-listed building was designed by Frank Verity in 1906 and was recently redeveloped by Forme UK. Architects Crawford and Grey have designed the interior, creating a space to display ancient and Islamic works of art, as well as objects of natural history.

It is set to open in the new year following the completion of works.

 davidaaaron.com